BOSTON "POPS" CONCERT

Boston "POPS" Orchestra Arthur Fiedler, Conductor

Russian and Ludmilla—Overture (Glinka) Deep River (Burleigh) Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen; Doctrinen Waltz (E. Strauss) Goyescas—Intermezzo (Granados) Eugen Onegin—Polonaise (Tschaikowsky)

A real Boston "Pops" program in miniature. Here is your chance to get a quick view of the most important and successful summer concerts in America—complete except for the wine, the food, the inimitable Symphony Hall atmosphere and the presence of the debonair Fiedler. Although condensed, this is a typical "Pops" program and will give you many hours of sheer pleasure. Any of these records may be bought separately if you wish. Be sure to hear them all, for they represent the "Pops" at its best.

SONGS OF BRAHMS Alto Rhapsody

Marian ANDERSON, Contralto with The PHILADELPHIA Orchestra Eugene Ormandy, Conductor

(After Goethe's "Harzreise im Winter")
Dein blaues Auge; Der Schmied; Immer leiser wird mein Schlummer

Marian Anderson's peerless voice is heard for the first time on records with the Philadelphia Orchestra, under Eugene Ormandy, in four of the noblest vocal works of Brahms. This superlative artist is more firmly than ever established in the top flight of living singers. As an artist and a native Philadelphian there is profound sympathy between the singer and the Philadelphia Orchestra, and their collaboration in these records is a significant, welcome and memorable event in the history of recorded music. These records should go on anyone's "must" list.

SERENADE IN C MAJOR (Tschaikowsky, Opus 48)

The B.B.C. Symphony Orchestra conducted by Sir Adrian Boult

There has been an active and prolonged demand for this beautiful music of Tschaikowsky, and Sir Adrian Boult's performance with England's foremost orchestra is a thoroughly delightful and most welcome one. The music is not too exacting for the listener but always rewarding and delightful. We commend it warmly to your attention as a source of quiet and deep pleasure for a summer evening.

CONCERTO FOR TWO PIANOS AND ORCHESTRA (Harl McDonald)

Leopold STOKOWSKI and the PHILADELPHIA Orchestra Jeanne Behrend and Alexander Kelberine

One of Harl McDonald's most interesting, brilliant and characteristic works, played with flash and zest by the brilliant young American pianists supported brilliantly by Leopold Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra. The Juarezca alone is worth the price of admission; be sure to hear it. It may be purchased separately.

TWO SKETCHES (Based on Indian Themes) (Charles Tomlinson Griffes)
QUARTET IN E MINOR—2nd Movement—Andante semplice (G. W. Chadwick)

It is not surprising that the Coolidge Quartet with its very American background and connections should turn to music of America's often great but always neglected composers. Here is some of the most charming music ever written in this country, played with superb style and moving effect by this distinguished quartet. The Griffes piece is actually based on native Indian melodies.

CONCERTO FOR ORCHESTRA IN D MAJOR (K. P. E. Bach—Arranged by Maximilian Steinberg)

The superb strings of the Boston Symphony Orchestra were never heard to better advantage than in this music. This versatile orchestra brings to bear on such classics as this the same virtuosity with which it plays the moderns and the romantics, but always with the exquisite taste which its distinguished conductor imposes on it.

(The Valkyrie—Thou Art the Spring) (Act 1) (Wagner)
LOHENGRIN—EUCH LÜFTEN DIE MEIN KLAGEN
(Ye Wandering Breeze) (Act 1) (Wagner)

Once more we have the honor to present Kirsten Flagstad with the Philadelphia Orchestra. Here are two of the most appealing excerpts for the soprano voice in all Wagnerian operas, and both evoke from the singer the peculiar glories of her world-renowned voice. Both numbers are done with the artful simplicity that conceals art and both are superbly supported by the Philadelphia Orchestra under Mr. Ormandy's direction.

IL BARBIERE DI SIVIGLIA—LARGO AL FACTOTUM
(The Barber of Seville—Room for the Factotum) (Act 1) (Rossini)
NON È VER ('Tis Not True!) (Tito Mattei)

Mr. Gorin is rapidly forging to the forefront of American baritones. A favorite operatic aria for the baritone voice is done with notable individuality and superbly virile vocal quality. Non È Ver is a dramatic lyric song of engaging melodic quality and vigorous rhythmic drive.

Igor GORIN, Baritone with Orchestra conducted by Wilfred Pelletier

CHORAL PRELUDE—CHRIST LAG IN TODESBANDEN (J. S. Bach) (Christ Lay in the Bonds of Death)

France's greatest organist arranged this Bach movement as a little sonata, which Dr. Courboin plays with all the requisite delicacy and serenity. Contrasting colors are revealed in the somber and moving Choral Prelude where some of the loveliest tones of the modern organ are evoked.

Victor Operas with 13-inch Singers at the World's Fair

VISITORS at the New York World's Fair this summer are privileged to attend performances of the famous Victor Puppet Opera Company of Ernest Wolff. The appearances are being sponsored by the Gas Industries whose building is located on the Avenue of the Patriots almost directly across from the RCA Exhibition Building.

The members of the company are 13-inch puppets (operated entirely without strings), who sing with all the lyric grandeur of the World's Greatest Artists. In reality they are deftly manipulated from beneath the stage in perfect synchronization to magnificent opera performances on Victor Records. So complete is the illusion that their singing, loving, fighting and dying have all the gusto of living opera stars.

No scene is too difficult. Brünnehilde, of Wagner's "Die Walküre," is enveloped by realistic flames. In "Faust," Mephistopheles appears out of a sudden gust of smoke. A concord of 90 performers marches across the stage to the stirring "Triumphal Music" of "Aïda"; in the same opera, a puppet performs an exotic Egyptian dance against a background of pyramids and old Egyptian temples.

Four performances will be given each day in a specially constructed theater in the Gas Industries Building. They will be at the fair for 26 weeks.
